*Crunchy leaves
and good company.*

A vertical photograph of a dirt path winding through a forest. The path is covered with fallen brown leaves. The trees on either side have green and some brown leaves, indicating autumn. The lighting is soft and natural. The text is centered over the path.

Grateful to spend the holidays with family this year, and also thankful to have received deep kindness during a different season. When I was alone during the holidays last year, the sweetest friends poured out a lot of love through small and big gestures. I still feel their thoughtfulness profoundly.
